

April 2015
Hero of the Month!
Detective Mike Haskett!

PREVAIL
Hero of the Month!

From Left: Brittany Winebar, Prevail's Youth Services Program Coordinator and Detective Mike Haskett, Noblesville Police Department

Engaging with law enforcement as a victim of a crime is an extremely overwhelming and scary process. There is fear that there will be judgment and non-belief.

Detective Michael Haskett is an incredible sensitive and hardworking sex crimes detective in the Noblesville Police Department. He is on the cutting edge of evidence-based, offender-driven investigations. As a police officer and detective, Det. Haskett promotes community safety by creating a supportive environment where victims are more likely to report accurate information and be fully participative in the investigation and prosecution process so that individuals committing these crimes can be held accountable. He listens. He follows up. He shows up. If he says he will do it, he does.

At his core he is an officer, but he is very much an advocate and ensures that all survivors have the connection to a victim advocate and on-going supportive services. There are few who rival his skills as an investigator and a compassionate human being.

Thank you, Detective Haskett for being our HERO!